COUNCIL MEETING

Mr. Geo. Oakley Sworn in as Mayor, M. S. Griffin Elected Member of Council. H. J. Schlatter President of Council—New Committees Appointed

The period of transition and reorganization of the village council seemed to come to an end Monday evening. The resignation of two councilmen and the Mayor has caused somewhat of an unsettled state in the legislative body of the town, but at Monday night's meeting the vacant places were filled and the council reorganized. Mr. George J. Oakley, former president of the Council was sworn in as Mayor, Milton S. Griffin was elected a councilman to fill vacancy that has existed since the resignation of H. H. Hough. Mr. Griffin was notified of his election and came to the council chamber where he was duly sworn in and seated. H. J. Schlatter was elected president of the council and Valerius Weber, D. E. Barkdull, J. L. Scott, M. S. Griffin, Clerk—James C. King, City Solicitor—J. C. Paxson, Street Commissioner—Robt. Sweeney, Night Watchman—Frank Leu. A resolution from the Board of Commissioners declaring that the dam erected on the Big Ditch at the Wauseon Water Works endangers a bridge erected by the County Commissioners across said ditch was read to council and placed on file.

Letters from State Board of Health relative to the provision of an adequate and sanitary supply of water for the village of Wauseon and in regard to complaint from District Board of Health, of sewage contamination of streams and ditches were read by the clerk. On recommendation of the Light Committee street lights were ordered placed on Vine street and McKinley avenue. Mr. M. J. Dangler was present to request the building of side walk on Cedar street to give him an outlet from residence property on that street to Oak street. Mr. Dangler was informed that the council had no funds available for that purpose at present, but that the improvement would be made as soon as funds were available. Following the passage of the usual claim ordinance council went into executive session.

CONSERVE BENEFIT BY APPLICATION

Another Fulton County Sunday School Convention has come and gone together with the Older Boys and Girls conference much effort was put forth by officers and leaders to have these conventions a success, what the success was, will be determined in the near future. No one could be in these conventions, where so many things were said and done, and benefit without receiving some benefit, these others it will not be a real benefit in the local Sunday School is where this will tell. If we may apply some of these benefit in our own Sunday Schools and see results there from we have done well. Sunday School rooms are not equipped, perhaps as they should be for the working out of some of the definite plans but, no school but what may be improved. Co-operation is what we ask for in these plans. If YOU were not present at these conventions and the one who WAS there undertakes something which he has heard planned, fall in with the plan and help boost.

The Young Peoples Conference were held in connection with the main convention and they were well planned and executed, every boy and girl were equipped, perhaps as they should be for the working out of some of the definite plans but, no school but what may be improved. Co-operation is what we ask for in these plans. If YOU were not present at these conventions and the one who WAS there undertakes something which he has heard planned, fall in with the plan and help boost.

SHE KNEW HARDING WHEN

With No Apologies to Jack Warwick of The Toledo Blade—Mrs. J. C. Robinson Strong For The Republican Nominee For President Because She Knows The Character of The Man

Readers of the Toledo Blade enjoyed a "close up" view of Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican Nominee for President, through Jack Warwick's very interesting article entitled, "Through the Eyes of Mrs. J. C. Robinson." Through the courtesy of Mrs. J. C. Robinson the Tribune has the pleasure of this week giving its readers another "close up" view of the man who has been chosen as the Standard bearer of the Republican party and who will be chosen not as the autocrat but the leader of this great Republic next November.

Mrs. Robinson whose home before her marriage was in Marion County, Ohio, very graciously gave the Tribune an interview in regard to her childhood acquaintance with Warren Harding whose father was their family physician and who lived as a neighbor less than a quarter of a mile away.

Mrs. Robinson's maiden name was Smith and there were brothers in the Smith family who were boyhood chums of the Harding boys and naturally there were daily communication between the two homes. On the Smith place was a mill dam and also the "Ole Swinim hole" and in those good old summer time days of the long ago the Harding boys and the Smith boys were daily visitors to that delectable spot.

"There were eight children in the Harding family," said Mrs. Robinson and that was the reason Dr. Harding moved from the town of Caledonia into the country, so that his children might have the benefit of the good air and the open country. Mrs. Robinson was a mill dam and also the "Ole Swinim hole" and in those good old summer time days of the long ago the Harding boys and the Smith boys were daily visitors to that delectable spot.

Warren was industrious and a good worker and often helped on the Smith place as a boy in his teens. He took the job of painting the Smith home and Mrs. Robinson says he did an excellent job. One of the traits of character which Mrs. Robinson admired in the boy was that he was never egotistic.

In school he was an especially brilliant student completing studies at sixteen that other young people would not normally complete until they were about eighteen; but he never seemed conscious of any superiority over his schoolmates and when success came he might say he never assessed himself as in any way above those who failed to attain as high marks as he. This trait has persisted in Mr. Harding's character as Mrs. Robinson related an incident of which one of her brothers told her. There was a reception given in Columbus at which Senator Harding was present. The brother of Mrs. Robinson came upon the Senator in a group of notables and impulsively addressed him as "Warren" when Mr. Harding turned with face beaming to greet his boyhood friend with the words, "I knew it must be someone from the old Marion County neighborhood. I don't hear that name very often now but have come on let's you and I take a walk" and they walked and talked for half an hour to the evident satisfaction of Mr. Harding. It is this trait which is shown by Mr. Harding's statement that the business of running the government is not a one man job. He "lives in a house by the side of the road" and he is "a friend to man" who he lives in the White House at Washington.

SPEAKERS FOR FARMERS INSTITUTE

Speakers, free of fee and free of expense, will be furnished farmers' institutes in Ohio by the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, it is announced by the Federal Institute.

Of course the number of speakers available for this purpose is limited by the Federal Institute and the rule is "first come, first served."

Another purpose of the Federation is to announce, to collect data regarding the state or crop, the amount of grain, food products, live stock and other farm products, to furnish that information to farmers and the buying public.

Organization of every county of the state for its own bureau is another purpose. It is announced that every county in the state, Adams and Vinton excepted, has some sort of bureau now, and that steps are being taken in Adams to form a bureau. Of these organizations, six have already been reorganized on the State and American Federation basis and application has been made in thirty-four counties for such reorganization.

VALUABLE DEPOSITS

Local beds of limestone rock is pointed out by the department of chemistry at the Ohio Experiment Station. This department for the past few years has been testing the value of limestone from practically all parts of the State and finds that many deposits are valuable for agricultural purposes.

In some sections there are beds of marl that may be easily used for liming the land and in other places the limestone may be ground with portable home outfits.

The use of lime has been found profitable on practically all soils of eastern Ohio; it is sometimes deficient in the western part of Ohio where the soil is underlain with beds of limestone rock.

Long years of cropping have removed quantities of limestone from the soil even in this region, so that it is necessary to lime the land to secure the largest profit from farm crops.

BANQUET AT METHODIST CHURCH

As the grand climax of a Contest between Mrs. C. H. Jordan's Class of Young Women and the Men's Brotherhood Class of the Methodist Sunday School in which the men won by over 400 points, members of these classes to the number of about 250 enjoyed a banquet and an equally enjoyable miscellaneous program at the Methodist church last Friday evening. The ladies served the banquet, but manacred a very interesting reprisal on the men by dividing them in groups of three and requiring one of each group to speak for three minutes upon some subject which they sprung on each group.

MARRIED IN FREMONT

WILL LIVE IN WAUSEON

The Fremont Daily News of Thursday June 17th gives an extended account of a wedding which figured as one of the prominent social events of the season in that city and in which one of Wauseon's newer business men was one of the principal parties.

The wedding referred to was that of Miss Gertrude Marie Gabel, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gabel of Fremont and Mrs. Lawrence Fresh of the Automotive Body Company of Wauseon and occurred on Thursday morning June 17th in St. Joseph's church, Fremont. Three clergymen among whom was Rev. Herman Gabel a cousin of the bride officiated in the marriage ceremony and the mixed choir of which the bride was formerly a member complemented her by singing the nuptial mass music. A wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony and the bridal couple left on a wedding trip, including a tour of the Great Lakes and a brief sojourn at Devil's Lake, Michigan. The wedding gifts were numerous and elegant attesting to the popularity of both the bride and groom. Mrs. Fresh is an accomplished musician and active in church, musical and social circles in Fremont.

On or about July 6th Mr. and Mrs. Fresh will go to housekeeping in Wauseon; they will be located in the David Disbrow residence on West Chestnut street.

We are certainly pleased to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Fresh to our community and trust that they may be both prosperous and happy with us.

TO MAKE INSECT SURVEY OF WHEATFIELDS

A wheatfield insect-survey will be made by the entomological authorities of the State during harvest time, beginning probably about June 21 or 22. The survey is made yearly to determine the amount of insect infestation in wheat and prescribe methods of procedure to combat the insects, particularly joint worm and Hessian fly.

The survey is in charge of T. H. Parks, extension entomologist, Ohio State University, Columbus. The department of entomology of the Ohio Experiment Station and members of the State Board of Agriculture, Columbus, will cooperate in this survey. The Hessian fly situation has not improved and entomologists fear that damage will be much in evidence at harvest time. The indications of Hessian fly are shown by short heads and stalks of wheat and breaking over of straw at harvest.

WHEAT TURNS TO CHEAT? OLD QUERY COMES AGAIN

Will wheat turn to cheat? This is a question many farmers ask at this time of year, many inquiries coming to the Ohio Experiment Station at Wooster.

Cheat or cheat is a weed itself, it is explained and a wheat plant never changes but the cheat is often found growing where wheat is sown or destroyed in some manner.

The cheat seed resembles shriveled wheat to some extent, which accounts for the belief that there might be some similarity in the two plants.

Cheat or cheat usually gets into the wheat field by using unclean seed wheat, or sometimes it is carried by the wind into the wheat field. It also propagates itself in fence rows and along roadsides.

BLANCHE ROSSMAN

THE NURSE

The world grows better year by year. Because some nurse in her little sphere, Puts on her apron and grins and sings And keeps on doing the same old things.

Taking the temperature, giving the pills, To remedy mankind's numberless ills, Feeding the baby, answering the bells, Being polite with a heart that rebels.

Longing for home, and all the while, Wearing the same old professional smile; Blessing the new-born babe's first breath, Closing the eyes that are stilled in death.

Making the blame for the Doctor's mistakes, Oh dear, what a lot of patience it takes. Going off duty at seven o'clock, Tired, discouraged, just ready to drop.

But called back on special at seven fifteen, With woe in her heart, but it must not be seen; Morning and evening, noon and night, Just doing it over and hoping it is right.

When we lay down our caps and cross the floor, Oh Lord, will you give us one little star To wear in our crown with the uniform?

In that City above where the HEAD NURSE IS YOU. —F. Mullenhan

Blanche, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rossman, was born in Wauseon August 10th, 1890, she passed to the life beyond on the evening of Saturday June 19th, 1920. Her childhood and girlhood days were spent in Wauseon where she also passed her school days with the exception of about one and one half years during which time the family resided in Delta. Supplementing her education in the schools of Wauseon she spent a year in St. Joseph's Academy, Adrian, Michigan in the study of music.

About eight years ago she entered upon the profession of nursing received the training and graduated from the training school of the Maternity Hospital of Toledo; since her graduation she has practiced her profession with devotion and success, and has endeared herself in the homes and to those to whom she has so efficiently ministered. Her illness was not of long duration but intense and her departure comes as a sad shock to the young people with whom she has associated and among whom she was sincerely loved. She leaves her father, mother and one brother, Mr. Clarence Rossman to cherish the memory of their dear one whose life in the family circle has been a source of happiness and whose blessedness of loving memories.

Miss Rossman was liked by all who knew her for her genial cheerful disposition and her life the short has been a very useful one; her many friends may also console themselves with the remembrance that it has been a happy one for she found happiness in ministering to the needs of others and in making those with whom she associated happy. She will be sorely missed in many circles but all who knew her believe that she has passed to a happier sphere and receives the rich reward which surely follows work well done and life well spent.

Mrs. Rossman was taken seriously ill Wednesday June 16th, Saturday morning she was taken to the Wauseon Hospital and Dr. Pyle of Toledo operated upon her in the effort to save her life, but a complication of conditions made the effort unsuccessful and she passed away at 8:30 Saturday evening. She was removed to the home of her brother, Mr. Clarence Rossman, where she lay amidst the flowers which were the tokens of the love of her friends until Tuesday afternoon when funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. F. Evans, pastor of the Christian church were held and interment made in Wauseon cemetery.
